

A deacon in every congregation...that is my goal as Bishop. I have set this goal because I believe the diaconate to be a necessary part of a complete and healthy church. If we are really going to make disciples, raise up saints, and transform communities for Christ in Northern California, we must have effective diaconal ministry in all our congregations.

Diakonia is a Greek word which means caring for those in need, carrying out God's vision in word, action, and in attending to all of God's creation. In today's world where power can be determined by wealth, but resources only available to some, healing and transformation are possible if we examine that call to diakonia. Join us in thinking, praying, and forming a plan of action in working toward that transformation.

An Individual Strategy for Ordination

Work and learn where you live—with the exception of one year Field Education in a nearby congregation during candidacy.

Have an individual learning plan that evaluates competency and provides the COM with an understanding of your readiness for ordination.

Begin by checking out the Ordination Manual on norcalepiscopal.org. Talk to your priest. Talk to the Bishop.

With the bishop's permission, formation can start before postulancy. Spend 3 or 4 years in discernment. Then apply for ordination. This program does not guarantee ordination. You will, however, develop a heart for diakonia and servant ministry.
